Purpose and Summary

Pursuant to Executive Order 10, the Department proposes to rescind Chapter 9 and adopt a new chapter in lieu thereof. The proposed chapter describes the structure and guidelines in which local emergency management is administered throughout the State.

The new chapter omits language that is overly restrictive or obsolete and, as a result, is a shorter chapter.

Analysis of Impact

1. Persons affected by the proposed rulemaking:

- Classes of persons that will bear the costs of the proposed rulemaking:

There is no direct cost associated with the proposed rulemaking.

- Classes of persons that will benefit from the proposed rulemaking:

All individuals within the State benefit from a well-run and well-planned emergency management program.

2. Impact of the proposed rulemaking, economic or otherwise, including the nature and amount of all the different kinds of costs that would be incurred:

- Quantitative description of impact:

The Department qualifies for various federal funding programs through the Robert T. Stafford Act because of the documented Iowa Comprehensive Plan. Much of this funding is passed through to local jurisdictions. Without these plans, Iowa would be ineligible for various federal funding programs.

- Qualitative description of impact:

Well-documented emergency planning is integral to emergency preparedness, response, and recovery. Countless lives are saved and damage to property is prevented by an all-hazards emergency response, recovery, and hazard mitigation plan. This proposed chapter outlines the State's response to disasters. These proposed rules lay out the baseline for local emergency management programs so that local jurisdictions are well-prepared, able to respond, and capable of assisting in the recovery from disasters.

3. Costs to the State:

- Implementation and enforcement costs borne by the agency or any other agency:

There are no costs to the State or the Department associated with this proposed rulemaking aside from the staff time to manage and maintain the plans.

- Anticipated effect on State revenues:

There are no anticipated effects on State revenues. However, by having these rules in place, Iowa becomes eligible for federal funding assistance.

4. Comparison of the costs and benefits of the proposed rulemaking to the costs and benefits of inaction:

This proposed rulemaking ensures the State is prepared and able to respond and recover from disasters. Inaction could lead to death, loss of property, and devastated communities. Not implementing these rules would lead to federal funding disqualification.

5. Determination whether less costly methods or less intrusive methods exist for achieving the purpose of the proposed rulemaking:

The Department proposes these rules as the least intrusive and prescriptive method for achieving the purpose of the proposed rulemaking. Where intrusive or prescriptive methods remain in this proposed rulemaking, the Department is following federal grant and program guidelines to ensure funding qualifications.

6. Alternative methods considered by the agency:

- Description of any alternative methods that were seriously considered by the agency:

There were no alternative methods that were seriously considered.

- Reasons why alternative methods were rejected in favor of the proposed rulemaking:

Not applicable.

Small Business Impact

If the rulemaking will have a substantial impact on small business, include a discussion of whether it would be feasible and practicable to do any of the following to reduce the impact of the rulemaking on small business:

- Establish less stringent compliance or reporting requirements in the rulemaking for small business.

- Establish less stringent schedules or deadlines in the rulemaking for compliance or reporting requirements for small business.

- Consolidate or simplify the rulemaking's compliance or reporting requirements for small business.

- Establish performance standards to replace design or operational standards in the rulemaking for small business.

- Exempt small business from any or all requirements of the rulemaking.

If legal and feasible, how does the rulemaking use a method discussed above to reduce the substantial impact on small business?

This proposed rulemaking has little to no impact on small business.
